Meet your facilitator

Anne Habets is a Belgian business engineer, leadership and psychosocial wellbeing consultant, and creator of the IACA Path, a holistic approach that helps people reconnect with themselves and build more sustainable ways of living and working.

Drawing on more than twenty years of international leadership experience and over a decade supporting individuals and groups, Anne combines a multidisciplinary approach with practical tools such as hypnosis, conscious breathing, movement and collective intelligence.

Since discovering La Gomera in 2011, she has returned regularly and now enjoys sharing the island's unique spirit, breathtaking landscapes and slower rhythm of life through small-group experiences that blend nature, reflection and personal growth.

As an entrepreneur herself, Anne understands the realities, pressures and responsibilities of leadership because she continues to navigate them every day.

"My role is not to tell you which direction to take, but to help you reconnect with your own inner compass."

Day 1: slow down & connect, from doing to being (D)

Your journey begins with your arrival at the beautiful Jardin Tecina, overlooking the Atlantic Ocean.

As we leave behind the pace and demands of everyday life, we gently create the conditions for something essential: slowing down.

Through welcoming conversations, simple breathing practices, guided self-hypnosis and our first moments together, we begin to build trust within the group and reconnect with ourselves.

Rather than focusing on performance or expectations, this first day invites you to become fully present—to yourself, to others and to the extraordinary natural surroundings.

As the sun sets over the ocean, we take our first steps beginning to listen again to our own inner compass

Day 2: Understand Yourself, listening to your inner compass (B, L, D)

Every emotion carries a message. Every reaction tells a story.

Through reflective workshops, guided conversations and experiential practices, you'll learn to better understand your emotional patterns, reconnect with your personal strengths and discover new ways of responding to life's challenges.

Participants are invited to explore practical ways of responding differently to everyday challenges and strengthening their inner resources.

An evening of music and movement invites us to reconnect with joy, spontaneity and authentic human connection.

Day 3 – Reconnect with Nature, let the island become your guide (B, L, D)

La Gomera is much more than a destination—it is an invitation to experience life differently.

Throughout the journey, Anne shares her personal connection with the island, inviting participants to discover its unique spirit, slower rhythm of life and the places that have inspired her for many years.

Together we explore Garajonay National Park, picturesque villages and breathtaking viewpoints while discovering La Gomera's history, traditions and extraordinary natural beauty.

Each stop becomes an opportunity to slow down, observe, reconnect with nature and rediscover what truly matters.

Before boarding our whale and dolphin excursion, we take time for a quiet guided meditation on the beach, allowing ourselves to become fully present to the ocean.

Day 4 – Move Forward with Confidence, taking your inner compass home (B, L, D)

The final day is dedicated to bringing together everything experienced throughout the journey.

Through a final guided experience, participants reflect on what they wish to carry home and identify simple practices that can support their everyday wellbeing.

Together, you create your own personal toolbox inspired by the discoveries, insights and experiences shared over the previous days.

Rather than offering ready-made answers, this final workshop encourages each participant to move forward with greater confidence, renewed energy and trust in their own inner compass.

We conclude our journey with a closing circle before saying goodbye—or extending the experience by enjoying a few more days on the beautiful island of La Gomera.
